Biography

At just 21 years old, I have grown up surrounded by house music, developing a deep passion for the sound, culture, and energy that comes with it. From an early age, I knew that music was more than just a hobby — it was something I wanted to turn into a career. My love for house music has driven me to pursue DJing, constantly developing my sound, refining my skills, and building my own identity behind the decks. With a strong passion for the scene and a determination to succeed, my goal is to continue growing as an artist, performing to new audiences, and making my mark in the house music industry.
