Biography

2ManyModels is a female electronic music producer, singer, and DJ based in Paris. She is one of Paris's most sought-after female DJs. She has also graced stages across Europe, sharing the spotlight with artists such as Rivo, Moojo, Sasson, and Villanova. Her interest in electronic music was sparked during a trip to Ibiza, where she was captivated by the house music scene and the hedonistic experience of the island's famous club Amnesia. Her stage name, 2ManyModels, is a nod to her modelling past, while also serving as an ironic commentary on the gender imbalance in the DJ industry, where women are often judged by their appearance rather than their talent. She has built a distinct persona, collaborating with indie fashion brands and showcasing Parisian creativity and luxury, all while producing her own unique music style.
