Biography

Hayk Föhn is a talented electronic artist who hails from the energetic Armenian city of Yerevan and has made a name for himself in the cutting-edge genre of house/techno music. Föhn has established himself as a force to be reckoned with in the electronic music scene with his contagious beats and entrancing melodies.

Föhn is a master at fusing elements from several subgenres of electronic music, but his knowledge of house/techno music is what really sets him apart. His music transports listeners to a setting where the dance floor is supreme thanks to its pulsing basslines, contagious rhythms, and soulful vocal samples. Even the most reserved people must let go and give in to the music's magnetic draw because of its overwhelming vitality.

The compositions of Föhn are evidence of his flawless production abilities and exacting attention to detail. Each song is an intricately crafted audio adventure that transports the listener through a landscape of bliss and rhythm. His use of complex layers, captivating synths, and expertly created arrangements displays his technical mastery and creative vision.

Hayk Föhn is a true innovator in the field of electronic music, pushing the envelope and reinventing the style. His music connects with listeners on a global scale, cutting through linguistic and cultural divides. Föhn has made a name for himself in the world of electronic music thanks to his persistent commitment to his art and his capacity to produce music that speaks to the soul.

Hayk Föhn holds a residency on Ibiza Club News Radio's (ICN) imprint 'The Basement' where he's scheduled alongside titans in the techno scene like CIRCOLOCO, John Digweed, Nicole Moudaber, Maceo Plex, Eats Everything, Joris Voorn, Adam Beyer, Chris Liebing...
