Biography

Jean Paul Francois plays house music the way it was meant to be heard: for the room, not the camera.

Based between Italy and UK, he has spent over 30 years behind the decks in clubs all ver the world. That is where he learned the one thing no software teaches: how to read a dancefloor and when to wait.

His sets move between deep grooves, soulful vocals and the raw energy of the classics. Each track is picked for the moment it lands in, never for a playlist.

In 2006 he founded GKF Records — Gotta Keep Faith, a label built on one idea: house is a culture before it's a genre. Through GKF he releases music that respects the roots and still looks ahead.

No gimmicks. Just records, people and a long night.
