Biography

About About Based in London but shaped by deep roots on the coast of Cornwall, Maisy Grace is an independent artist blending soul and folk with hints of jazz and indie. Her songwriting is honest, emotionally grounded and deeply personal, inspired by real life experiences rather than perfection. Her songwriting explores how it feels to be a Cornish girl navigating city life, finding your way through girlhood, the pressures of being a young woman today and how to protect your mental health as you go. After stepping away from music for a couple of years, she is returning with a renewed sense of clarity and purpose. The time away has strengthened her love for songwriting, reaffirming that music is not just something she does, but something she needs. Writing with more confidence and intention than ever, her songs feel both vulnerable and self-assured. Her EP, Maisy Grace Got Lost was released in early 2026, look out for more music and some exciting collaborations during this year.
