Biography

Hi, I'm RLS – Restless Leg Syndrome. I’m a DJ based in Stuttgart, with close ties to Berlin. I don’t belong to one genre, but people often tell me they can still recognize my sound. I move between Indie Dance, Down-Tempo, Techno, and whatever else fits the moment. What matters most to me is creating emotional journeys – whether it’s for a dance floor in full motion or an afterhour that needs just the right touch. I've been immersed in electronic music for years, not just as a DJ, but as part of a culture that lives by values like Peace, Love, Respect & Union. My journey started on after-parties, where I often felt the music didn’t go deep enough. So I decided to learn how to DJ – to give something to the people who stay a little longer, and expect a little more. I feel at home playing both festivals and clubs, and I’m always looking to connect with crowds that are open to something slightly unexpected.
