Biography

TiN T is a House DJ from Aberdeen.
Emerging electronic music artist TiN T has evolved from writing teenage rap lyrics in school hallways to becoming a rising force in the rave and dance scene. He first found his voice through rap, writing lyrics and recording on Hip-Hop eJay. At 18, while working as a glass collector and later as a bartender in a club, he discovered dance music. He taught himself production, crafting instrumentals through long nights that helped him overcome personal struggles and break free from destructive habits. Driven by house, techno, and high-energy rave influences, TiN T developed his skills as both producer and DJ—mixing tracks, reading crowds, and building energy on the decks. Today, he creates original music for warehouse raves, underground parties, and festivals, blending heavy basslines, euphoric synths, and driving grooves that keep dancefloors moving until sunrise. “I’m living proof that redirection and discipline can turn passion into purpose,” says TiN T. “From spitting bars in school to dropping bombs at 4 a.m. raves—every step taught me resilience and the power of shared energy.”
